ABOUT ME

Product and business leader with 11+ years founding and scaling technology-driven ventures end to end. Currently co-founder driving product and business development at Works4you, an AI-powered B2B customer-acquisition engine, and product manager of a live SaaS platform. I own product from first idea to launch — concept, specs, roadmap, AI tooling, distributed engineering teams, data, and P&L. EMBA, Tel Aviv University.

- Founded and scaled TWOTONE from concept to 100+ boutique partners with overseas manufacturing and full P&L ownership.

- Own product from thinking through build: architecture direction, AI tooling, and specs (signal detection, attribution, callback SLA loop).
- Designed and ran disciplined, low-cost validation experiments that stress-tested core business assumptions before spend.

POKER111 — Product Manager | 2024 – Present

- Launched and operate a SaaS platform serving 100+ international users with tiered memberships and integrated payments.

- Built a retail + e-commerce fashion brand from concept to a multi-year operation with 100+ boutique partners.
- Owned the full P&L: financial models, pricing, cash flow, and strategic growth plans.
- Ran end-to-end operations — supply chain, inventory, employees, store, and distribution; managed sourcing and manufacturing in Italy including import and customs.
- Implemented the business-system stack: Comex ERP, Pipedrive CRM, marketing automation (Mailchimp, Flashy), and the WordPress commerce stack.
